

First you must save the file to the computer. Now, log into your email account depending on which services you use the process might be slightly different. Once you have attached your document and enter the recipient email click the send button to send your email.

Yahoo	 Screenshot of the Yahoo email interface. On the left, there are buttons for 'INBOX' and 'CONTACTS'. Below them is a 'Compose' button with a green circle and a hand cursor icon. On the right, there are input fields for 'To', 'BCC', and 'Subject'. Below these fields is an 'Attach File' button with a green circle and a hand cursor icon. There are also icons for text formatting: 'It', 'Tr', 'B', and 'I'.
Hotmail	 Screenshot of the Hotmail/Outlook interface. On the left, there is a blue header with the Outlook logo and a 'New' button with a green circle and a hand cursor icon. On the right, there are text formatting options: 'B', 'I', 'U', and 'Aa'. Below these is an 'Attach Files' button with a green circle and a hand cursor icon.
Gmail	 Screenshot of the Gmail interface. On the left, there is a 'Gmail' header and a 'COMPOSE' button with a green circle and a hand cursor icon. On the right, there is a 'Subject' input field and a blue link that says 'Attach a file' with a green circle and a hand cursor icon.
COM Email	 Screenshot of the COM Email interface. On the left, there is a 'New' button with a green circle and a hand cursor icon. On the right, there is a 'Send' button with a green circle and a hand cursor icon. There are also icons for 'Print', 'Share', and 'Im'.